

Malaysia Social Studies Educational Travel

MALAYSIA

Malaysia spans amazing contrasts of scenery and lifestyles. Its interior encompasses volcanic peaks, vast rain forests, mosaic of green and unspoilt landscapes - from rice paddies and huge spice, rubber, oil-palm and tea plantations to lush tropical forests that are the habitat of rare wildlife, deep caves and dramatic mountains. This is a world of infinite space and mystery, framing South East Asia's oldest jungles and highest peaks. Man, too, has made his own fascinating imprint upon Malaysia, perhaps at its most striking in the colourful customs and festivals of its cosmopolitan ethnic groups - Malays,

Chinese, Indians, Kadazans, Dayaks and others. Picturesque kampung villages of waterside houses on stilts, improbably carved temples and shrines, thriving communities whose restless energy reflects Malaysia's booming economy - they're all aspects of this flourishing country of countless contrasts.
